

A partnership

Oceanside Better at Home is administered by Society of Organized Services (SOS) in partnership with United Way British Columbia, with funding from the Government of British Columbia.

www.sosd69.com

Client comment

“I used to drive around Parksville and Qualicum. But then my life changed altogether. Now, I look forward to my visits, and I rely on this program.”

~An Oceanside Better at Home client

Volunteer with SOS

Volunteer to share some tea or a game of cards with a senior, help them send an email, take them on an outing — it's rewarding work and very much appreciated.

Better at Home is funded by the Government of BC and managed by the United Way.

SOS Community Services Centre

250.752.2040 ext. 200 | www.sosd69.com

744 Primrose St., Qualicum Beach

betterathome@sosd69.com |

Oceanside Better at Home

Supporting our seniors to live independently in their own homes

Better
at Home

United Way helping seniors remain independent.

Society of Organized Services

How can we help?

Some of the services offered through Oceanside Better at Home Program are free, such as friendly visiting, bi-weekly grocery shopping bus trips and transportation to non-medical appointments. Other services are completed by paid contractors and fees apply, which are determined by ability to pay. Seniors who are 65 years and older, and living in School District 69, can contact SOS to apply.

To apply, call 250.752.2040 ext. 200

Oceanside Better at Home helps seniors with simple day-to-day tasks, allowing you to maintain your independence and stay connected to your community. We provide a range of non-medical support services such as:

- Friendly visiting
- Light housekeeping
- Grocery shopping
- Yard and lawn maintenance
- Transportation to non-medical appointments

